Dear Solar Community:

By any measurement, the California Solar Initiative (CSI) program in PG&E's service area has been a success. On behalf of PG&E, I would like to extend my appreciation to all of you who contributed to the CSI program's accomplishments. Your individual commitment has played a major role in developing a more sustainable PV industry and made solar a reality for many PG&E customers.

Please be aware that PG&E will not be accepting any new CSI General Market Residential PV applications as our Waitlist closed at 5:00 p.m., Thursday, May 2, 2013. PG&E will also not guarantee that Waitlisted Residential PV applications will receive CSI incentives in the future. Applications on the Waitlist will be notified individually if there are incentives available. The Waitlist closure only applies to Residential PV applications and does not apply to Non-Residential PV applications.

Please note, Table 1 of the CSI General Market Budget Report and PG&E's Daily Budget Report, available on the California Solar Statistics website, shows incentive budget remaining in our residential sector. However, the presence of "Remaining Funds" for a given Program Administrator does not mean that funds are available to incentivize additional applications. The "Remaining Funds" are dedicated to meeting existing PBI incentive commitments, which may be greater than forecasted due to higher than expected performance.

The end of PG&E's Residential CSI program is a sign of success! Since 2007, the Residential Program has assisted over 51,000 homeowners to install solar in PG&E's service area. The Program's success demonstrates Californians' commitment to solar energy and to transforming the solar market.

Thank you for all your efforts to make the CSI program successful.

Sincerely,

Kim Ngo | Senior Program Manager, California Solar Initiative
